Daughters of Hawai‘i Host “Day at Queen Emma Summer Palace”

HONOLULU, HI—The Daughters of Hawai‘i will be hosting the 31st annual Day at Queen Emma Summer Palace festival on Saturday, October 6th from 9:00-4:00.

Come and join the Daughters for local food, crafts, Haku lei, plants, ‘ono baked goods and preserves. In the cool shade of the Palace grounds, watch the fashion show and enjoy the Hawaiian entertainment, including: Punahou Alumni Glee Club, Ka Hale I O Kahala, Keola Chan & Friends, Hālau Hula Olana, Jerry Santos & Friends, and the Royal Hawaiian Band. Visitors can stroll through the Palace, Hānaiakamalama, which will be specially decorated with lavish floral arrangements for this special occasion. Be sure to bring your family; this is a wonderful event that you won’t want to miss!

A Day at Queen Emma Summer Palace is the Daughters’ annual fundraiser in support of their mission to preserve the Palaces. The Daughters of Hawai‘i, a membership-based organization founded in 1903, dedicate themselves "to perpetuate the memory and spirit of old Hawai‘i, and to preserve the nomenclature and correct pronunciation of the Hawai‘ian language." All proceeds from the event will go to the restoration and preservation of Queen Emma Summer Palace and Hulihe‘e Palace in Kailua-Kona.

Queen Emma Summer Palace is located at 2913 Pali Hwy. Free parking for the event is located adjacent to the Palace, on Puiwa road, in the park. Admission for the event is $5 for adults and $1 for children, which includes entrance to the Palace.
